GERMANS FAIL IN ATTACK

After Four Days of the Bitterest and Bloodiest Fighting Since the Battle of Verdun

CALL MEETING TO THRASH OUT PAVING WORK

The mayor has called a special meeting of the city council on Monday evening at 8 o'clock to meet the board of public works and thrash out the matter of paving Middle and other streets. It is understood that the public service corporations using Middle street object to doing necessary work on that highway at this time and that the board of public works has this as a reason for requesting the meeting. How long more the public will be obliged to suffer from this thing and that thing which has developed every now and then from the political arena is a question. There are indications on the surface that the meeting on Monday will be a lengthy one and somebody will say something.

These are stirring times and the high cost of living continues to soar.

(By Associated Press.)

Desperate German efforts to retake from the British the positions captured on the Arras front have failed after four days of the bitterest and bloodiest warfare since the battle of Verdun.

Military critics expect another superhuman effort on the part of the Germans to recapture the heights, because of the strategic positions held by the British which spells certain doom to the Western line.

The political and economic storm has not by any means been abandoned by the hasty action of the government.

Berlin papers are showing there are apprehensions of a general strike on May 1.

It appears that the recent strike was not so definitely and satisfactorily settled as reported in the official communication.

Interest is again centered on Spain owing to the new Premier's statement relating to neutrality and Germany's answer to the Spanish note is expected within a few days.

The Spanish note stated that if Germany continued her violation of neutrality it would not be surprising if Spain took action to defend her interests.

NORWEGIAN BARQUE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

(By Associated Press.)

Copenhagen, April 27.—The Norwegian barque Tehesta, which arrived safely at a Norwegian port owes her safety to the fact that warning shot from a German submarine smashed both her lifeboats. INVOKE SPIRIT OF STATE HEROES

Sayings of Webster, Pierce and Hale Placed in Capitol Grounds.

Concord, April 26.—To assist in the state recruiting campaign in the rear of the recruiting tent in the state house yard, have been placed standards bearing well known sayings of Daniel Webster, Franklin Pierce, General John Stark and John P. Hale with arrows pointing to the statues of the author which stand in the yard.

It was generally felt that these men whose love of country was so pronounced should be brought into the campaign for recruiting to instill patriotism into the men of the present generation, but all were at sea as to how it could be accomplished.

The ingenuity of a public spirited citizen, however, solved the problem and with the likenesses of the great men standing in the state house yard and the painted sayings directed toward them, these patriots of earlier days are brought into the field of activities, speaking their thoughts to all who pass.

The sayings printed on the standards are as follows:

"I tell you sir, the Union will be preserved. Its stars and stripes shall still float in the valley and over the mountain tops. True hearts shall rally around it."—John P. Hale.

"No man can suffer too much and no man can fall too soon if he suffer of it he fall in defense of the liberties and constitution of his country."—Daniel Webster.

"If you ever mean to establish the independence of the United States, you must place dependence upon firearms and courage."

"Tonight the American flag floats over yonder hill or Molly Stark sleeps a widow."—John Stark.

"That flag has waved through three foreign wars, with the union up, cheering the hearts of brave men on sea and land, wherever its folds have unfurled in the smoke of battle."—Franklin Pierce.

COAST RESERVE IS COMPLETED IN RECORD TIME

QUOTA OF 3500 FOR FIRST DISTRICT WAS RECRUITED IN FORTY-SIX DAYS.

Boston, April 26.—It is just forty-six days since Nathaniel F. Ayer's private yacht, Lynx, with a one-pound gun mounted on its deck, left the Charlestown Navy Yard on its memorable cruise in New England to secure recruits for the Coast Defence Reserve—and the quota, 3500 men, including officers, seamen and chaplains, has been completed. The enrollment office in the Old South Meeting House will open on Monday as a regular navy recruiting station.

This recruiting service along the coast has been in charge of Chief Machinist A. A. Gathemann, U. S. N., attached to the Charlestown Navy Yard, and he began his work on March 10, with the first cruise to Gloucester. His campaign has been unique in this country: for men to serve under the new act of Congress, that created the Naval Reserve.

Commander George Mitchell, U. S. N., retired, with headquarters at the navy yard, has been in general charge of the enrollments, with Chief Machinist Gathemann in the field.

The first Naval District, covering a territory from Chatham to Eastport, Me., has been combed by the enrollment parties, and Mr. Gathemann has in this time been everything from a sailor to an after-dinner speaker, all the time intent in filling up the quota of class 1, ahead of any other district.

A general order issued today by Captain A. H. Robertson, chief of staff of the district, stops the enrollments in class 4, and the office will on Monday be turned over to Lieutenant Keller, U. S. N., as a regular navy recruiting station.

The order follows:

First Naval District
Office of Naval Reserve Force
Navy Yard, Boston
Old South Meeting House
Boston, Mass., April 26 1917

By direction of the chief of staff, Captain Robertson, U. S. N., it has been decided that enrollments will be suspended temporarily in class 4 of the Naval Reserve, which is the Naval Coast Defence Patrol, consisting of crews for small power boats.

Men, however, who have not the qualifications to enroll in class 2 and class 3 can be enrolled in class 4, volunteering with their applications for duty in class 2, which is the Merchant Marine Reserve, or class 3, which is the Naval Auxiliary Reserve, consisting of mine sweepers and other deep water craft.

The Naval Reserve Enrollment office at the Old South Meeting House will be closed on Saturday, April 28, and all future applicants will have to apply at the enrollment office at the main gate, navy yard.

On Monday, April 30, the office in the Old South Meeting House will be opened as a navy recruiting station, with Lieutenant C. S. Keller, U. S. N., in charge, where men can enlist in the regular navy, and can receive information about the Naval Reserve.

The navy recruiting station on Tremont street will be kept as a sub-station until the end of June.

A. A. Gathemann, Chief Machinist, U. S. N., Enrolling Officer.

It has been seldom that a little forty-five-foot power craft has been called upon in the early spring without any tuning up or repairs, to make cruises from the Charlestown Navy Yard to Portland, Gloucester, Cohasset, Provincetown and other coast towns, but she came through and landed Chief Machinist Gathemann, her commander, and his party, including Surgeon Smith, U. S. N., at every port on time and created a record for herself. She has been purchased by the Government and is now on active service in the district.

Farmers, machinists, railroaders, laborers, rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Ends for cuts, burns, bruises. Should be kept in every home. 25c and 50c.

GIRL KILLED AT SANBORNVILLE

Miss Mary Crateau Victim of Train Accident on Way to School.

Sanbornville, April 27.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday morning at the Boston and Maine depot as the mixed train for Wolfeboro was making up. It is the custom of the Brewster Free Academy students living in Sanbornville to go to school daily on this mixed freight.

This morning the "buggy" was at the depot and Miss Mary Crateau, a student of B. F. A., and daughter of Edward Crateau of this place attempted to board the "buggy" when another car was pushed against it with such force as to throw Miss Crateau onto the rail. She had presence of mind to seize the tracks as she fell, which prevented her from being run over.

A special train was quickly made up and the girl was rushed to the Huggins hospital, Wolfeboro, where she died yesterday afternoon. Miss Crateau was a popular young lady and a church organist here. She was engaged to be married. Besides her parents she is survived by three sisters and four brothers.

London, April 27.—Francis Clements son and heir of the late Earl of Leitrim, has been officially declared dead by the probate court. He disappeared from London in 1907 taking passage as a stoker on a vessel bound for New York, but a ten years' search by detectives of two continents has failed to reveal any trace of what became of him after he reached New York. "I decided that if I stuck to London drawing rooms my life would ferment into mere froth" he told a fellow-stoker on the way out from Liverpool.

About a year after he disappeared, his death was reported from Kansas City but after an exhaustive inquiry, this has proved a false clue.

The court's decision that Clements is dead leaves the present Lord Leitrim without an heir to his titles which include the earldom, viscountcy and barony of Leitrim and the barony of Clements.

There is no room for visitors

(By Associated Press)

Munich, April 27.—The local authorities of Berneck, a tourist resort town in the Bavarian Alps, have announced that they must decline to provide accommodations for visitors in their district this year. There is no room for visitors, says the announcement, and in order to avoid disappointment intending travelers are informed that everything will be done to hinder the progress of strangers to the mountains. Visitors are further informed that there is no meat for them, no bread, and no other articles of daily necessity for sale in the district except to residents. Controllers have been appointed by the authorities to see that the regulations banning visitors are strictly carried out.

The self enthusiasts in the city are beginning to make more frequent trips to the Country Club.

Concord, April 26.—Trustees of the estate of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy have given the City of Concord the use for agricultural purposes, of 60 acres of very fertile land at Pleasant View, the home for so many years of Mrs. Eddy.

This will be platted into gardens for the free use of citizens under direction of the local committee of safety. The city has not seven teams at work doing free plowing.

MONTHLY LOAN NEEDS OF ALLIES ANNOUNCED

France, Great Britain, Russia, and Italy May Receive Stipulated Sum Each Month and Money Will be Spent Here

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 26.—From a preliminary report to the Treasury Department Secretary McAdoo has based his plans for the issuance of the first bond issue under the $7,000,000,000 war bill and has presented it to the President. The United States will be called upon to furnish $400,000,000, and possibly $500,000,000 a month to the allies for the purpose of enabling them to continue the war on Germany.

NAVAL RESERVE ENTERTAINED BY MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

By invitation of the Men's Class of the Middle Street Baptist church nearly one hundred young men, members of the Naval Reserve from the Training Camp at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, were entertained at the church chapel on State street Thursday evening. The program included the singing of patriotic hymns, addresses, and vocal and instrumental music, the latter furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra. In addition to the enlisted men of the Reserve several of the officers attended and invitations were also extended to Captain Howard, Commandant of the Yard, Captain Hill and Lieutenant Commander Peck. Owing to their duties at the yard neither of these officers were able to attend.

The Men's Class is the first organization to entertain the men of the Reserve since their coming to the city and the hosts did everything possible to give their guests a pleasant time. Following the presentation of the entertainment program an informal musical program and general good time ensued, the guests joining with their hosts in a very enjoyable evening of good-fellowship.

LOCAL COMMITTEES COOPERATING WITH STATE SAFETY COMMITTEE

Concord, April 26.—Any doubt that New Hampshire is ready to respond to any demand made upon her in the war situation was dispelled yesterday afternoon by the large and enthusiastic gathering of local committees on public safety with the state committee on public safety in the state house. Every report by members of the sub-committees showing what has been done thus far was roundly applauded and practically everybody present came forward to give assurance of their hearty co-operation in any undertaking. Chairman John B. Jameson's committee may institute.

The principal speech was made by L. A. Clinton of the federal Department of Agriculture at Washington who talked on food production and conservation, the conference being show that Great Britain will need from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 a month; France $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 a month; Russia so far undetermined but likely to be as great as $100,000,000, to be spent in this country for supplies other than munitions, provided American manufacturers can meet her requirements; and Italy $50,000,000 a month.

Of this great sum to be placed in monthly loans to the allies of the United States practically all will be spent in this country. The money will be expended for foodstuffs, munitions, manufactured goods, steel, railroad supplies and other materials.

welcome and his remarks were followed by the welcome of the President of the class, Chaplain E. W. Scott, U. S. N., attached to the local yard, delivered an address which was as much appreciated by the members of the class as by the Reserve men.

The hall was decorated attractively in the National colors and presented a pleasing appearance, and during the evening refreshments were served by the committee in charge of the arrangements. The members comprising the committee were L. P. MacDonald, chairman; Austin Barrett, Carlton Sadger and Norman Rand. The formal program of entertainment, later supplemented by a number of songs and music freely rendered by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, follows:

Selection by the Orchestra.
Welcome, by President of the class.
Words of Welcome by the Rev. Mr. Stanley.
Singing of America, Orchestral accompaniment.

said that he and the other members of the executive committee were prepared to stay on the job six months or six years, to be governed by the duration of the war alone. Mr. Jameson paid a warm tribute to Governor Keyes for his untiring work in war preparation and the regret was general that a slight illness prevented the attendance of the governor who was to have made a speech. Mr. Jameson said that for the most part towns and cities have shown an eagerness to co-operate in the big work, more than 93 per cent of the towns in the state being organized for the work. He suggested that effective work could be accomplished by the local committee in furnishing needed money to the farmers in anticipation of their crops, and in reply to a query said that his committee would endeavor in good time to evolve a plan whereby the farmers could be assured of a reasonable profit on their crops, although he believed that patriotism alone would be enough to induce farmers to take chances.

Mr. Clinton said there was a wrong belief in many places that this country would not be seriously involved in the war. He said that those familiar with developments feared the contrary, and in any event the part of wisdom would be to increase production and conserve food resources. He said that when the farmers realized the danger he had no fear that they would respond willingly. There is no danger of overproduction of food, Mr. Clinton said, because of the vast amount which will have to be shipped across the water. County agents should be a big factor in bringing about an intelligent conduct of the farms, Mr. Clinton said, and urged that the farmers be brought into close touch with these agents. So important does the department of agriculture consider county agents that plans are already under way to place county agents in all counties which do not have them.

KNIFE ON CORNS CAUSES LOCKJAW

Tells how to loosen a tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezeone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and is said to simply shivel the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

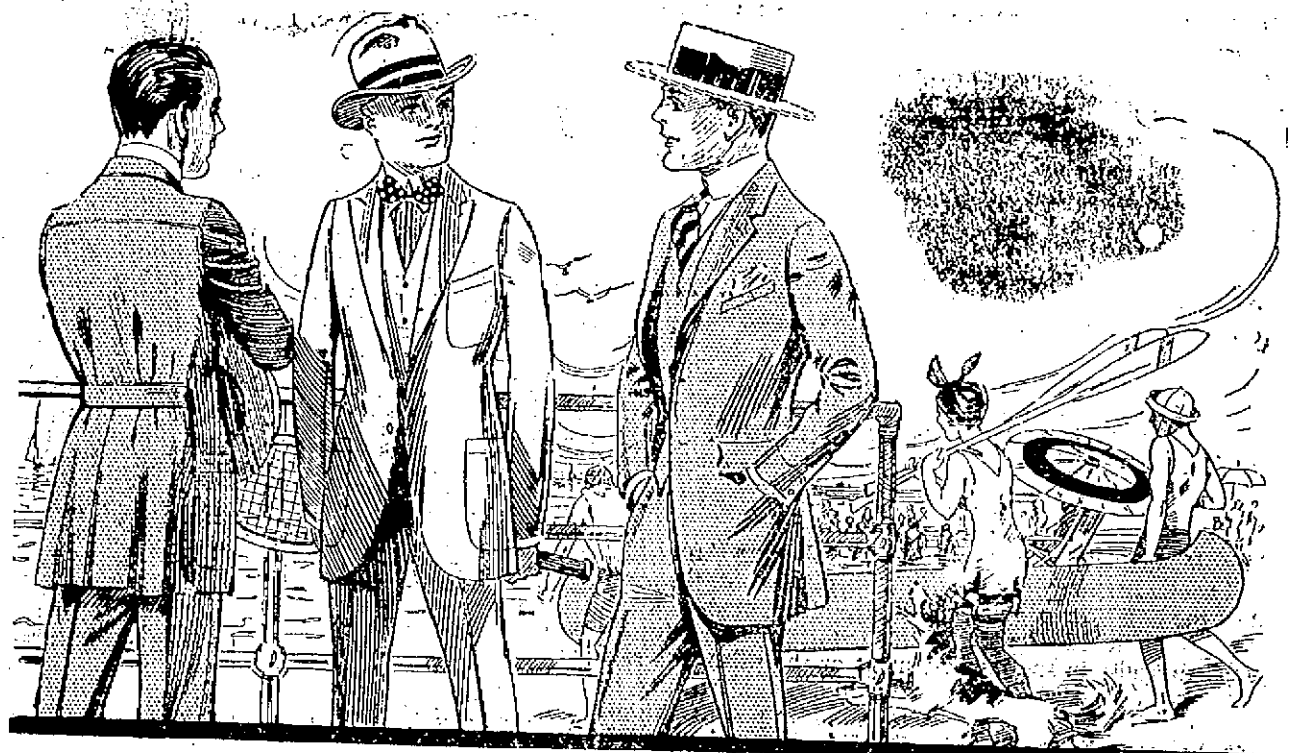

THINKS AZTEC STRUCK MINE WHEN SUNK

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 26.—Lieutenant William F. Gresham, the American naval officer in command of the gun crew on the armed liner Aztec sunk three weeks ago off Brest, made his report to the navy department today in person, in which he said that he believed the steamer was sunk by contact with a mine rather than by a submarine. The unofficial report to the state department at the time said the vessel had been torpedoed in the night by a German submarine. The report, beyond this statement, was not made public by the navy department.

The department also refrained from making any comment of the reported sinking of a German submarine by the U. S. Mongolia. The department has the facts from reports which it gave out, but they are the same as the press dispatches issued this morning. As the claim lacks official confirmation they refused to make comment.

NO SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN HERE THOUGHT LIKELY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 26.—Rear Admiral Six Dudley R. De Chair, veteran naval officer of Great Britain, and a member of the British War Commission visiting here, gave a group of Washington newspaper correspondents some first hand information gained by him in the past two years while in command of the patrol which has been chasing German submarines off the coast of England. While he did not attempt to minimize the gravity of the German submarine menace he said that he did not believe that Germany could afford to carry on any extensive U-boat campaign against the United States in American waters. He said that in order to do this it would be necessary to have large bases for operations close to the American coast which it is almost impossible for her to maintain with any degree of safety of protection.

SHOULD GIVE THE CORN CROP AN EVEN CHANCE

Washington, D. C., April 27.—Early fall frosts every few years cause enormous losses of corn in the northern third of the United States. Each September there is a feeling of fear that frosts may come ten days earlier than usual and prevent the corn from ripening. Every fall millions of the people are hoping that the first fall freeze may be delayed ten days longer. This anxiety and this oft recurring loss due to fall frosts can be largely prevented by earlier planting.

Concerning the ability of corn to withstand low temperatures, some of the work conducted during the past three years by the Office of Corn Investigations of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in southern, central and the northern states has brought out the points of practical value. Points which cannot be profitably applied in the northern third of the United States are:

- 1.—Seed corn that matures properly and is thoroughly dried as soon as mature and kept dry will give a very strong germination.
- 2.—Seed corn of strong germination can be planted several weeks earlier than ordinary seed. Ordinary seed will not where proper seed will not. Valuable points in connection with seed of strong germination are its ability to stand planting earlier, to utilize more fully the growing season, to mature earlier and to produce a larger and a better matured crop.
- 3.—Very early planted corn makes a slower growth above ground than late planted corn, is not so tender and consequently not so badly injured by the spring frosts.
- 4.—In general, earliness of maturity means smallness in size and in yield. It is a mistake to choose the earliest maturing varieties where a larger and more productive variety can be ripened by earlier planting.

With seed corn of strong germination (which is not so scarce as usual this spring) it is not advisable to wait until danger from frost is past before planting. The ten days more of growing weather so anxiously needed in this fall can be secured by planting several weeks earlier than usual. With seed of strong germination no fear need be felt because of cold soil or frosts. A good root growth will take place and the growth above the earth will be so slow and hardy that it will withstand cold weather and all frosts better than that planted later. Thick plantings should be made so that although the weakest plants are killed by frosts and insects destroy some, a sufficient number of the most vigorous plants will remain to mature a full stand. After planting, the soil surface should be kept dry and warm by frequent cultivations.

In the District of Columbia good stands have been obtained from the plantings made in February where the ground froze several times after the planting.

In North Dakota good stands have been obtained from plantings made in April and in northern Ohio one hundred bushels of mature shelled corn per acre have been produced by the plants whose leaves were frozen off after the plants had attained a height of 12 to 18 inches.

It is the fall and not the spring frosts that should be feared. Early planted corn matures earlier and usually yields better than the later planted corn. Earlier planting will result in larger and better crops in the northern third of the United States and cause sufficient early ripening to reduce the enormous losses which frequently occur through failure of the corn crop to mature before the growth is stopped by frost.

MEXICO WARNS GERMAN AGAINST HOSTILE MOVES

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 26.—In an official statement to the State Department today it was said that the Mexican government had warned German residents of the Republic not to attempt any concentration of their numbers near the international boundary lines between the United States and Mexico. The proclamation said that any great gatherings near the border would be followed by instant arrest and imprisonment for those taking part.

The Young People's Society of the North Congregational church will hold its last social on Thursday evening.

The crew of the steamer state that after the sinking of their vessel and while they were in open boats the submarine came to the surface and opened fire on the boats with a gun mounted on the deck and with rifles. One man was killed and eight others wounded.

Fair Play for Both Sides.

Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army in a recent address on her work for prisoners pleaded for the abolition of the term, "ex-convict," to the greatest possible extent, on the ground that the facing of this reproach constitutes the greatest difficulty in the reinstatement of the prisoner's self-respect and re-establishment in the world. Mrs. Booth feels that this handicap should be removed so far as possible, to the end that a man who has served a prison term may have a fair chance for a new start in life.

With the spirit of Mrs. Booth's plea there will be general sympathy. No reasonable and right-minded person would throw any bitterness of the past in a man's face for the purpose of keeping him down, and yet it is only fair to say that there are two sides to this question of concealing the fact that a man has been a criminal. While it is true that such a man should have the right and the privilege of working his way up in the world to the greatest possible extent, it is also true that the public has some right to protection against elements which may not be so thoroughly reformed as the reformers imagine. It is quite probable that Mrs. Booth would not like to take into her employment a man or woman who had been behind prison bars without her knowledge. She might be willing to give such a person a chance, but the chances are that she would feel easier if she knew who and what she was dealing with. If this is not true of Mrs. Booth it is true of the vast majority of those who employ men and women.

In recent years there has been a great deal in the way of so-called reform in the management of prisons and prisoners, and much of this work has been good in its results, yet there are those who feel that it is possible to carry some features of the work too far. They feel that imprisonment should not fail entirely to constitute punishment and to be recognized as such by persons who have had their chance in life and failed to improve it.

An ex-convict should not be hounded, but encouraged in all reasonable ways to make the best of the remainder of his life, but the truth is there are so many lapses from apparent reform that it would be hardly proper to foist these men upon unsuspecting people as utterly trustworthy. A clear understanding of the facts in the case will in most instances be better for all concerned, and this can be had without needlessly pointing the finger of scorn or unnecessarily reminding one that he is an "ex-convict."

There is talk of having prices regulated by the government during the war. Not all are convinced that this is the proper thing, but if it is to be done why should not the same authority have something to say about wages? The anthracite coal miners are now demanding an increase which, if granted, will, it is said, result in an increase of 50 cents a ton in the retail price of coal. If the government is to put its hand on the matter of prices anywhere it should begin in the coal fields.

The New England Milk Producers' Association, which has completed arrangements for the sale of the product of the members, is now planning for co-operative buying of grain, fertilizers, farm machinery, etc. The grange in its early days was supposed to serve its members in this way, but it seems that the milk producers see an opening for action as a body. If the movement can be successfully conducted it should prove of large benefit to them.

Automobile accidents are occurring with a frequency which indicates that reckless driving is still far too common. According to the reports in the papers most of the accidents that have happened this spring might easily have been avoided if the drivers had not been in so much of a hurry. The list of killed and injured is alarmingly large for this early in the season.

One writer in a communication to a newspaper advocates the abolition of all holidays until the close of the war. Perhaps it would be well to abolish, or greatly reduce at least, speaking and writing. A great deal of what may properly be called "slop" is being turned loose just now.

With all the other troubles infantile paralysis has made its appearance again in New York city, the starting point of the epidemic of last year. It is to be hoped the medical authorities will be able to restrict the disease to a greater extent than was possible a year ago.

Camps for the training of officers are to be opened early in May. The work cannot be too vigorously pushed, and everything in the way of fuss and feathers should be mercilessly cut out.

A few more April showers would help the crop of May flowers.

The Man With the Hoe

(From the Dover Democrat)
"Bowed with the weight of centuries he stands,
And leans upon his hoe," wrote Edward Markham in his famous poem. It was a moving picture that he drew of the bowed laborer.

"The emptiness of ages in his face,
And on his back the burden of the world."
But things have changed. The "Man with the Hoe" is no longer a cowed serf. Today his is the most respected of occupations. He is the aristocrat of industry. The world depends on him, more than ever before, and the world
frankly admits its obligation.

Our "Man with the Hoe" today stands upright in physical strength and moral self-respect. There is no
"emptiness" in his face, but the intelligence that goes with political freedom and scientific farming. On his back, sure in a more real sense than ever, but it is a noble burden, proudly and patriotically borne. The farmer is conscious of his duty to feed the world, and is striving to do his part as the soldier in battle does his.

We need a new picture of "The Man with the Hoe," and a new poem to celebrate it.

The Flag in France

(From the Newburyport News)
"That there is a very widespread desire that at least one brigade of American soldiers be sent to France becomes more evident with every day."

This is not because the general public assumes to have thorough knowledge of military problems, nor because it would attempt to dictate to the military men who are in control of our policy. Most of us freely admit that these men know far more on such matters than we do, and that what they say concerning the disposition of the large army this country is to raise goes.

But the plan is favored as an expression of sympathy to France, and because of the thrill it would give both to the men who are now fighting across the water and to our own people.
There is no war of course, but what has a great moral effect upon soldiers and nations may prove to have a very decided effect upon the outcome of a war. France and England have already been stirred favorably by the entry into the war of the United States. How much more might not happen if the Stars and Stripes were actually on the battlefields of France.

Such a force led by a man of the character of Colonel Roosevelt, a man who has always made an appeal to Europe as a typical American, would do this nation a service which can hardly be calculated. The number of French troops which fought here in the Revolution was not very large, but they certainly did an invaluable service. The small army suggested, as a forerunner of what is to come, if the war continues, would do this country a great service in France where men had come to wonder if the United States, in its rush for wealth, had lost all of its old ideals.

If Colonel Roosevelt can raise a force of men who have been thoroughly or partially trained and can lead them in person, the United States would be well served by such a force necessitated by the war. Sentimental considerations may be laughed at by some, but they have large importance in the present situation as in many others.

NAVY NOTES

Detached on Short Notice.

Lieut. Commander Dowling and Lieut. Dysart, both of the Industrial Department have been detached and ordered to duty at another station.
Both have been valuable and excellently popular officers at the local yard and have the good wishes of one and all of their friends and acquaintances at the station and in this city.

Will Live in Tents.

Wives of nearly a hundred naval officers on duty in Washington who have been ordered to sea with the entry of the United States into the war will follow their husbands as far as the shore and there will dwell in tents with their children near the first rendezvous.

As most of the warships probably will spend considerable time inside harbor limits, they thus hope to be near enough to see the officers frequently.

The wives will leave Washington shortly for an unnamed port on the Atlantic coast. They will establish their tent colony immediately and expect to spend the summer in camp.

Additional Estimates.

Additional estimates have been submitted to Congress calling for $2,000,- 000 for instruments and supplies, $3,- 500 for direct telephone communication between the navy yard at Puget Sound, and the torpedo station at Keyport, and $600,000 for a provision department at New York city.

Praise for Recruits.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels received a letter on Wednesday from an officer of one of the biggest batteries in the fleet which illustrates the aptness and enthusiasm of the hundreds of young men who are now joining the navy. The officer wrote:
"There is a great deal of valuable work to be done here, and we are doing it, particularly in the way of intensive training and education of petty officers and the new men. The work is going on nicely, the recruits
a fine lot of young men, cheerful, patient, and eager to learn, and they are assimilating it. Results can be seen from day to day."

Places for Retired Marine Officers.

Colonels Paul St. C. Murphy and Harry K. White, Marine Corps, retired, have been placed on an active duty status and assigned to special duty at the navy yard, New York.

Captain Frederick C. McConnell, retired, has been placed on active duty, and he has been assigned to the headquarters of the Marine Corps at Washington and to duty as adjutant to the commandant, Major General George Barnett. He succeeds Major Earl H.
Ellis, who upon promotion to his present grade became ineligible to continue on duty as an aid.

Second Lieutenants Willett Elmore,
Thomas B. Gale, Lewis L. Gover, Edward G. Hagen, Thomas E. Harris, Charles M. Jones, William P. Richards, and Benjamin P. Stand, recently appointed from among the midshipmen that graduated from the Naval Academy last month, have been assigned to duty with marine detachments on board ship.

Who Will Be Chief?

Secretary Daniels has given as yet no indication of his purpose in filling the prospective vacancy in the important position of engineer-in-chief of the navy when Rear Admiral R. S.

Griffin completes his four-year detail on May 18. Several officers, mostly members of the former engineer corps, have been mentioned as Rear Admiral Griffin's successor, provided that officers is not re-titled, of which there has been a reasonable possibility, now increased by the existence of war. Rear Admiral Griffin's commission, however, dates from December of 1913, when the Senate confirmed his appointment and it may be that Mr. Daniels will regard Rear Admiral Griffin's term
as not expiring until the later date.
There is expectation, however, that no change will be even then made,
which would be entirely satisfactory to the service, including any of the officers who stand a chance of succeeding him.

Duty for Retired Officers.

Secretary Daniels has manifested a desire to avoid as far as possible the assignment of retired officers to active duty unless it can be shown that such retired officers are full competent to take the place on shore, in the navy department and at navy yards, of officers of the active list who may by this arrangement be sent to sea. Considerable difficulty has been encountered in this particular, largely due to the fact that some of the retired officers have not kept themselves in close touch with the development of the naval service, something which is only to be expected and in no way reflects upon the officers concerned, few of whom have had the opportunity to gain practical knowledge of the changes in the situation.
Mr. Daniels, therefore, is quite insistent that great care shall be employed in ascertaining the fitness of individual officers. Neither is he inclined to recommend to the President the restoration to the active list of retired officers who are making applications for such transfer authorized under existing law in time of war. He does not favor this as a general principle, although the legislation attaching to the expedition prescribes a standard of physical and professional fitness in which the candidate for restoration must qualify.

Big Pay Day on the Way.

It is estimated that the next pay day of the mechanics, classified force and laborers at the local Navy Yard, will force will be paid on Monday.

Pharmacists Wanted.

There is an opportunity for pharmacists to enroll in the reserve corps.

NATIVE REVOLTS CAUSING TURKS MUCH TROUBLE

Native revolts are causing the Turks
a great deal of trouble in the Ansari Mountains, in Syria. The revolt started as a result of

GERARD WANTS PEOPLE TO STAND BY PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)

New York, April 26.—James W. Gerard formerly American ambassador to Germany appealed tonight to the entire country to stand by the President and to urge congress to pass the administration bill for universal, obligatory military service. He declared that he knew that if Germany had won either a draw or a victory in the war, she would have attacked the U. S.
regardless of whether America had entered the war. Mr. Gerard was speaking at the annual dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

He said:
"Let no man, be he rich or poor, laborer, farmer, miner, manufacturer, business man or whatever his occupation, or in what interior part of the country he may live, believe that this is not his war. The lives and safety of himself and his family and the preservation of his property and the right to enjoy the fruits of his labor or industry depend upon its successful outcome. There is no outrage that would not be perpetrated upon us if we lost;
and no citizen or section would be immune."

"We are at war with a war with a country possessing the greatest military machine the world has ever seen, and which believes (irrespective of American opinion on the subject) not only that the only effective way to wage modern war is by universal obligatory military service, but that force is the only thing to be regarded."
"To adopt at the outset universal obligatory military service would be to deal the morale of our enemies a staggering blow and demonstrate at the outset that we are in this war to win."

"And do not forget that to deal this blow at once may save countless American lives."
"On the other hand to hesitate to discuss, to dispute, or to reject universal service and adopt the volunteer system is to give aid and comfort to the enemy by convincing him that we are not in earnest."

"The President made every effort to keep the peace, but peace or anything else in this world is worth nothing if bought or kept at the price of honor."
"The German military caste hate the very name of America. I know that if we had remained out of the war we would have been attacked by Germany if the war had then ended in either a draw or a German victory."

"I have heard that people in the interior of our country, in our great middle west are apathetic—do not believe that war with a European power would affect them. I do believe this. The people of the middle west are too intelligent to believe that. If German submarines ruled the seas, their prosperity would not be touched, that if a German army landed in Mexico and armed and led a force to the north that the middle west would get off scot free. An army which meets no opposition can go far and a tribute levied on a blockaded country must be paid by all."

the Turkish government's action in sending a Turkish battalion to the Ansari district, ostensibly to hunt for deserters, but really for taking over the new investment. The conduct of the troops provoked the natives to revolt, and a battle ensued in which the Turkish force was defeated with 200 casualties, while the Ansari lost fewer than 70 men.

The Turks retreated after burning five villages. Later the remnants of the troops were ordered back to Hama to await reinforcements, then to return to the mountains with a mountain battery to punish the revolt. The punitive expedition had to be abandoned, however, owing to the receipt of news that the Druses of the Hauran had also refused to give up their crops to the Turkish force which had been sent for the purpose. As a result of this refusal, a fifteen day battle took place between five Turkish battalions and the Druses. The Turks were again defeated, thanks to reinforcements received by the Druses from neighboring Arab tribes.
One of the Druse chieftains who was captured by the Turks was condemned to death by crucifixion.

WHOLE MILITARY RECORD ON HIS SLEEVE

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, April 27.—The French soldier carries his whole military record on his sleeve. An inverted V high on the right sleeve means "wounded," and a new one is added for each addition. A V right side up on the same sleeve means "sent home on sick leave." The V on the left sleeve indicates the length of service; one for the first year, and one for each succeeding six months.

A new distinction, which is highly prized, has recently been created, a narrow horizontal band, meaning, "six months at Verdun."

VETERAN B. & M. ENGINEER CELEBRATES

"Jack" Savage and Wife Observe Silver Wedding at Portland.

"Jack" Savage, the oldest engineer in the passenger service of the Boston and Maine railroad, well known in this city, and his wife, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage at their home, No. 145 Cumberland avenue, Portland, Me., on Thursday.

Engineer Savage, holds a gold medal presented by the Humane Society of Massachusetts for prompt action on August 8, 1883, which saved the lives of many passengers when a disabled train on the Rockport branch nearly crashed into his train at Beverly. Mr. Savage backed his train to safety while a switchman threw the switch in time to let the wild train run by. William Endicott, Jr., was a passenger that day and sent Mr. Savage a complimentary letter and a check for $500, the purse raised by the grateful passengers. He was engineer of the Flying Yankee for 19 consecutive years.

Mr. Savage was born in Manchester, N. H., August 8, 1858. He began railroading in White River Junction as switchman. He began firing on the Eastern 41 years ago. He became an engineer a few years later.

Mr. Savage is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and of the Knights of Columbus. He served three years in the city council and was president at one time. He married Mary Manney in Bangor. Very Rev. M. C. O'Brien performing the ceremony in St. Mary's church.

Rev. T. C. Manney of Dexter, her brother, celebrated an anniversary mass in the Cathedral at 8.30 Thursday morning in honor of the anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Savage kept open house during the day and evening and received the congratulations of their hosts of friends.

DEFENSE WILL BE "BETRAYAL OF FRIENDSHIP"

(By Associated Press.)

Christiansburg, Va., April 27.—Chas. E. Vawter, professor of mathematics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will be tried here at the May term of the Montgomery county circuit court charged with the murder of Stockton Heth, Jr., who was prominent in society and sports. It was indicated through counsel that his defense will be based on "betrayal of friendship."

Early in the morning of March 12, clad only in pajamas, Heth was found mortally wounded in the upper hallway of the Blackburg home at Blackburg where he was an overnight guest. Three bullets from a revolver had entered his body, the range of the shots being upward, indicating that they had been fired from the stairway. Professor Vawter was arrested on a warrant charging him with the shooting but he was released under $1,000 bonds after waiting a preliminary hearing.

Just before he died early in the morning of March 15, in the presence of Lieut. Clement Heth, of the U. S. Army, and Commonwealth's attorney R. I. Hoop, Heth said:

"Charlie Vawter shot me. He hasn't got a thing to stand on."

Counsel for Vawter issued a statement two days later after declaring that the "evidence will disclose a betrayal of friendship and confidence exposed. It said 'the day has not come when the honor of a Virginia home is no longer sacred and we feel that our client will have nothing to fear at the hands of a jury of his countrymen.'"

Vawter's bond was increased to $10,000 after Heth's death and he has continued to live at home since the tragedy. Apparently there has been no break in the home life and Prof. Vawter and his wife have continued to receive their friends.

Mrs. Vawter is regarded in this section as one of the most beautiful women in the state. Before her marriage she was Miss Rachel Henderson of Salem. The Vawters have two small children, a girl and a boy, both of whom were at home on the night of the shooting. Bernard Williams, a student, was the only other occupant of the house where he had a room.

Both the Vawter and Heth families are socially prominent and an imposing array of counsel has been retained by the opposing sides. Judge W. W. Moffett will preside. "Jack" Lee of Lynchburg one of the most famous criminal lawyers in the state, will break a precedent of twenty years to assist Commonwealth's Attorney Hoop in the prosecution. Heretofore he has steadfastly refused to take part for the state in murder trial. J. Hoge Tyler Jr., of Radford, also has been retained for the state. Vawter will be defended by Corless and Colburn of Christiansburg and R. L. Jordan of Radford.

FRENCH OFFICERS CONFER WITH AMERICAN OFFICIALS

Vice Premier Viviani May Address U. S. Senate on Saturday--Joffre Urges Sending Expeditionary Force to France

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 26.—Conferences between French and American officials in which views regarding the carrying on of the war against Germany were exchanged took place today after the leaders of the French party had paid formal calls on President Wilson, Vice President Marshall, and Secretaries Lansing, Baker and Daniels. Foremost among the conferences was that between Field Marshal Joffre and his staff with Secretary Baker of the War Department, General Scott, and several other officers of the American army. This conference took place at the home of Henry White, former ambassador to France, where the distinguished visitors are being entertained as the guests of the nation.

France's desire for the sending of an American expeditionary force to co-operate with the armies of France against Germany is already known and at the conference, Marshal Joffre gave the American officials his views and reasons for the advisability of such expedition. Information of the conference between the leaders was withheld from publication.

After the conference, Vice-Premier Viviani, head of the commission, made a statement to American press representatives in which he said he believed that the United States would cooperate with the Entente allies by sending troops to France. He said that such cooperation in the war means victory to France, which is already assured, a victory morality and right, "the securing of a world peace where all children will have the right to grow up, to breathe free, and to follow their right to peace and happiness."

M. Viviani later called upon Vice President Marshall who tendered him an invitation to visit the Senate. It was later indicated that the invitation had been accepted by the French minister and that he would visit the Senate either Saturday or Monday when he would probably address the House.

A number of the party have expressed the desire to visit the larger cities of the United States before they return to France, to visit the places of historic interest and other interesting points. It is probable that they will visit Philadelphia, New York, Chicago, Valley Forge, and Boston before their return.

Tonight the chief officials of the party were the guests at a dinner at the White House and later in the evening all of the members of the party were guests at a reception held by President Wilson at the White House.

VOLUNTEER PLAN ASSURED LOST BY CONGRESS

ARMY BILL WILL BE PASSED BY BOTH HOUSES BEFORE END OF WEEK IN OPINION OF PARTY LEADERS

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, April 26.—The war army bill, now being discussed in both houses of Congress to the exclusion of all other legislation, will be passed before the end of the week, it is indicated tonight. Unless leaders in Congress are far afield in their views the bill will be passed virtually as it came to Congress from the war department. The Senate definitely committed itself today to take a vote on the bill before adjournment on Saturday. The House, in session far into the night, will endeavor to vote tomorrow.

In the Senate leaders claim that the volunteer plan amendment will be killed by a majority of at least fifteen and House leaders claim that this amendment will be lost by between thirty-five and fifty.

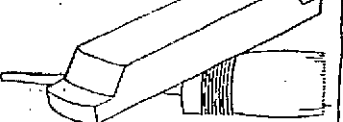

With this amendment out of the way and no others of importance attracting any interest, the bill is expected to be passed in both houses by overwhelming majorities.

Split, clean, remove head and tail from medium sized mackerel. Put in pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with one tablespoon butter; pour over one-half cup milk and bake in hot oven twenty-five minutes, basting. FROM "PIGS" TO PAINT

THE pigment or "body" of long-wearing house paint was once pigs—chunky bars of metal lead like that shown above. A chemical process, known as "corroding," changes them into white-lead.

Upon the purity of the pig lead depends to a great extent the purity of the white-lead. Its purity in turn determines the life of paint.

So don't buy "a pig in a poke" when in the market for paint. Specify a white-lead of known purity, such as

Dutch Boy Red Seal White-Lead

which is made from the purest pig lead obtainable.

Thinned with pure linseed oil, Dutch Boy White-Lead makes paint that costs no more in the beginning and much less in the end. What's more, the paint stays good to look at. There is no unsightly and costly cracking or peeling. It is waterproof, in fact, all-weatherproof. Any color suitable for inside or outside work can be secured.

For further information about Dutch Boy White-Lead, consult your painter or write for booklet.

HOW THE BLUEJACKET LEARNS THE USES OF PUBLICITY

No matter how small the town, even so diminutive from a standpoint of population that it has been left off the printed maps and no matter what its daily or weekly newspaper is, whether it is printed on a four deck cylinder or a creaky and antiquated Washington hand press, it still is the proud possessor of a traveling correspondent who is in all parts of the world. He keeps in touch with his home town newspaper, not through thrilling stories or events that are making history, but more specifically with the little items of interest that are just what the folks at home want to read when the carrier leaves the daily paper at the door or Uncle Sam's post man leaves the weekly at the R. F. D. box by the roadside.

The sailor of today is always in touch with his home town paper. He may be blissfully unconscious of the fact that he is a travelling correspondent but he is just the same; for the Navy Department, through its Publicity Bureau, has made "Jack" a gatherer and a chronicler of news that goes back to the boys in the old town like a letter to an old pal.

Every ship of the navy carries blanks that are already to be filled up with the little items of interest that are so much of an event in the life of a navy man and to those in the town back behind the hills. He may have excelled in some particular study or work of the ship and been commended; he may have made a fine showing at target practice and he may, as a ship's pointer, have won the coveted Navy "E" which means a whole lot to the man behind the gun. When this does happen a blank with his name, his next of kin and his home town is filled out with an accompanying memorandum, something like this:

"This man was the firing pointer on No. 4, 3 inch gun of this ship, which made the highest score this year in the Navy; four shots; four hits in 19 1-2 seconds. This man was awarded the first prize and will be awarded the Navy 'E' which is a decoration given only to gun pointers making a score of 7.78 hits per gun per minute. His score was 12.35."

If the proud sailor has a photograph, and it is ten to one that he has, it is sent along. Then as the days go-by the memorandum gets to the Navy Publicity Bureau in New York City and from there it is sent out in a newspaper style to all the papers in his home town and vicinity, and when he comes home he finds out that publicity has suddenly thrown him right into the middle of fame.

The Publicity Bureau has another idea in mind while getting the news from these first line of defense men into print. The more that is printed of the boys and of what they are doing, and of their triumphs in peace or their loyalty and service in war, the more Young America is attracted to the life of a sailor and the more quickly he is made to realize his duty in responding to his Country's call.

The Publicity Bureau of the Navy not only disseminates news of the service but it operates one of the largest and best equipped printing offices in New York where all of its posters and literature are printed.

UNITED STATES TO CONTROL THE WORLD FOOD SUPPLY

Washington, April 26.—That some ate the production and distribution of one American—possibly Herbert Hoover or Secretary of Labor Wilson—within the next few months will become food dictator of the world, was indicated by developments at the international war conference of the allies here today.

More and more the war councils proceedings are crystallizing into a monumental campaign to feed the allies. Finance and shipping problems are coming to be considered comparatively collateral, though of course vital. Man-power development for foreign service is even less pressing.

It was taken for granted today that it will be the policy of the allies, after America has made her preliminary contributions to her fighting sister nations in men, money, food, shipping and other things, to entrust the United States with absolute control of certain phases of the war.

That food will be one of the problems left entirely in American hands is believed certain.

Chosen by Wilson. This will mean that one man, or a small group of men, will be named by President Wilson absolutely to diminish

POLITICAL POT PROMISES SOME TURBULENT BOILING

Patrick H. Sullivan, Democratic candidate for congressman, invited no longer in Manchester than to learn of the outcome of the Republican congressional convention, when he tied himself off to Washington to confer with the leaders of his party with reference to arrangements for the forthcoming campaign upon which the first district is entering. He has had the promise of aid from the national committee of his party, and his visit to Washington is to secure definite information as to just what may be expected from his party outside of New Hampshire. Mr. Sullivan was accompanied on his trip to Washington by Chairman Farrand of the Democratic state committee.

The Democratic state committee is to take charge of the campaign, having already opened headquarters on Elm street, just north of the Pickering building, with George E. Farrand, chairman of the state committee, in charge, and will be assisted by local organizations throughout the cities and towns in the district and by a representative of the Democratic national committee. Hal Parks of Washington, D. C., who is already on the ground and will confer with the members of the Democratic city committee at a meeting which has been called for tomorrow night by Chairman Thomas H. Madigan, Jr.

Republican Headquarters. Republican headquarters are to be opened in Manchester within a few days and will be conducted by men to be chosen by Candidate Burroughs, this conclusion having been reached at a conference of the members of the Republican state committee residing in the first district, Mr. Burroughs today received a communication from U. S. Senator Jacob H. Gallager, to the effect that the Republican national committee would give him all the help desired in the way of speakers and would send to New Hampshire its most noted campaign orators.

Democrats are talking that U. S. Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois and Judge Thomas Riley of Medford, Mass., will be among the speakers who will be heard. There is also gossip that a series of joint meetings between the rival candidates may be arranged.

CONSIDERING ANOTHER OFFER OF $200,000,000

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 26.—Secretary McAdoo is considering another offering of $200,000,000 in treasury certificates due June 30, to the banks of the country within the next ten days. The plan has not been definitely approved, but indications are that it will be adopted. Announcement as to the details of the first issue of bonds authorized under the $7,000,000,000 war finance law probably will be made not later than May 1.

The second offering of treasury certificates, if made soon, probably will follow the same course as that adopted in the first offer of $200,000,000 from which $200,000,000 was loaned yesterday to Great Britain. The issue would be placed through the federal reserve banks acting as fiscal agents for the government and would be offered primarily to the banks of the country, state banks and private institutions as well as members of the federal reserve system.

Conferences as to the further needs of the entente governments were continued today with representatives of Great Britain and Italy. Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England accompanied by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador and other officials of the British embassy, spent half an hour with Secretary McAdoo. The Italian Ambassador communicated to the secretary a preliminary report setting forth the immediate needs of his government. It is understood that the ly's chief need is coal her usual supply from Great Britain having been curtailed greatly during the last few months. The need of the coal was said to be urgent and it is possible that funds will be provided for the establishment of an Italian credit in this country for the purchase of American coal, which, notwithstanding the high freight rates, would be shipped to Italy to keep her munitions, factories and naval establishments supplied. Secretary McAdoo is accumulating detailed reports of the needs of the entente governments upon which he will base recommendations to President Wilson as to the size of the first bond issue.

CHANCELLOR IS EXPECTED TO STATE TERMS

GERMAN CORRESPONDENT OF DUTCH NEWSPAPER MADE STATEMENT ON THURSDAY

(By Associated Press)

Amsterdam, via London, April 26.—The Tjld's German correspondent says that Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, Imperial German Chancellor, will in his next speech to the Reichstag, give definite information on the German peace terms.

Copenhagen, April 26.—The failure of Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, Imperial German Chancellor, to definitely state the aims of Germany in continuing the war is creating the greatest amount of feeling against him among the laboring classes. At least one division of people in Germany are favorable to him and are supporting him in his policies of deferring the making of any definite announcement. This is the Catholic Center in the Reichstag and the support comes after his statement not to force any reforms until after the war is concluded.

On the other hand the chancellor's decision against making any positive statement for peace has evolved the greatest discontent in the Reichstag from the other sides of the House. The Socialist representatives and the Pan-American representatives assert that his refusal to take a stand indicates the absence of authoritative decision and weakness.

PRICE OF BREAD TO TAKE JUMP IN NEW YORK CITY

TEN-CENT LOAF TO REPLACE SIX
CENT LOAVES ON MONDAY MORNING

New York, April 26.—The six-cent loaf of bread, now the cheapest on the market, will disappear from New York counters Monday, it was announced here today by the largest producing wholesale bakers.

The 10-cent loaf will be the cheapest and its size will be cut materially. Big advances in loaves of other sizes were announced.

The notices, sent without warning to small dealers all over the city, caused consternation and in many cases the price of bread was jumped arbitrarily at once.

Monday, the 10-cent loaf, which now weighs less than a pound, will be cut two ounces. A new loaf, weighing 1 1/2 pounds and selling at 15 cents, will be placed on the retail market.

Restaurants hereafter will pay 15 cents for the loaves they have been getting for 16 cents; 24 cents for the former 18-cent loaf, and 32 cents for the loaf they are now buying for 24 cents.

The advance takes effect in all kinds of bread. It was predicted that bread and butter, now supplied in restaurants and hotels without charge, will be added to the priced articles on the menu.

Prices may go even higher, commission merchants declared. They said many bakers purchased large supplies of flour early in the year when the price of wheat began to advance. When the $2 mark was reached in wheat these men sold their flour stocks to get the profit. They now are forced to buy at higher prices than when they sold.

Big bakers all agreed that the price advance was directly due to the high cost of wheat. None would admit that the increase had been ordered by any central body, but insisted the initiative was taken by individual bakers.

In a few bakeries, it was learned, the loaf costing less than 10 cents will not disappear entirely. One big bakery announced the price of its present 7-cent loaf would be increased to 8 cents and the price of its 10-cent loaf to 12 cents.

Philip Ward, of the Ward Baking Company, one of the largest bread dealers in the city, said:

"The principal cause of this increase is the extremely high cost of wheat. Cash grain at Minneapolis is not only scarce, but very high. The bakers must make some kind of retrenchment. This has been coming on for weeks and months."

High Food Prices are Unwarranted, Say Probers

Washington, April 26.—Results of the first congressional authorized and paid for price probe, as a result of recent soaring prices throughout the nation, were reported today.

The probe was conducted here. Some sensational disclosures were laid before Congress in the report, which says that similar conditions undoubtedly hold in other cities of the country.

The conclusion reached is that "there is no just ground for such high prices of many products as are demanded of the consumer at this time."

The report says there is "urgent need in this country for organization of comprehensive marketing machinery."

any which will put producing and consuming communities in trading relations with each other and make possible sending of perishable products directly from the point of production to point of use.

Municipal wholesale markets are recommended.

Conditions unearthed here also may be taken as a criterion of what the federal trade commission may find in its nation-wide investigation.

The probers found:

That "reports of food shortages were misleading."

That prices in many cities were "unusually high."

That the poor "have been compelled to resort to strictest economy to provide food."

That the sale of ordinary cuts of meat appears to have been for frequent small quantity sales, with corresponding increase in frequency of deliveries.

The delicatessen shop serves as pantry for the apartment dweller, and the proprietor charges for services rendered.

Boston to Lose Six-Cent Loaf, Too

Boston, April 26.—The six-cent loaf of bread will probably be abolished by Greater Boston bakers next week and the 10-cent loaf reduced one cent, according to an official of one of the largest baking companies in this section.

In doing this the local bakers will follow the lead of their New York brethren. The exceptionally high price of flour is the cause of the proposed change. Bakers are paying twice as much or more for flour now than they were a year ago, they say.

Boston bakers are now putting 10 ounces of dough into the 10-cent loaf. When baked, it usually "blosses" two ounces.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., April 26.—Now that the preparations are assured, New Hampshire College will begin preparations for the construction of the New Commons.

This building which is to provide a general social center and place where the undergraduates may get their meals and which will also serve as a men's dormitory will be one of the most distinguished additions to the group of power buildings. It will be 125x252, built of red brick, three stories in height, and will be Colonial in design. The plans were made by Prof. B. T. Huddleston, head of the department of drawing here. Before coming to New Hampshire, Professor Huddleston was a practicing architect and is a graduate of the Cornell School of Architecture. The building will harmonize with Fiske Hall, the library, the new Kappa Sigma fraternity building and it will be placed between the Kappa Sigma house and Fiske Hall.

The long central section will have two gable-end wings and will be surrounded by a cupola, suggestive of that on Independence Hall, Philadelphia or the one on Dartmouth Hall at Hanover. The trimmings will be of cast stone and the roof of slate. The central doorway, surmounted by an iron railed balcony leads past the office into the main dining room which will be two stories in height. This room is 85x18 deep and will seat 300 people.

At the southern end of the building on this floor there will be a general meeting room for men students and a newspaper reading room. The general room will be fitted for cases for athletic trophies. In the corresponding position at the other end of the building there will be a reception room, a faculty dining room and behind these the serving room.

The second floor has in the front a corridor-gallery overlooking the main dining room, and on this floor there are three or four rooms to be used for meeting places for various undergraduate organizations and there is a rest room for women students. On this floor also are the rooms for the employees of the building.

The third floor will be devoted exclusively to a men's dormitory where rooms, single or in suite, will accommodate about 40 students.

In the basement under the main dining room there is to be a cafeteria. This is for the use of the men students, and though the details of its management have not yet been arranged, it is expected that it will be open all day and part of the night. In the basement also are the kitchen, the bakeshop and the storerooms.

The new Commons when finished, the grounds graded, and the complete equipment installed, will cost $100,000. The work of construction will be begun this spring, and the building should be finished within a year. The Colonial design has been followed inside the building as well as without. The dining room will have a deep beamed ceiling, and all the woodwork will be of birch, stained gray. The stairways which open on either side of the main entrance will be of an impressive Colonial design, with mahogany rail and treads and white balusters.

Conda J. Ham, Registrar of New Hampshire College has at his office now a rapidly growing list of students who have already left college to enlist in the armed forces of the United States for war. The Naval Reserve has taken many of them. Those who have enlisted in this branch at Portsmouth follow: R. J. Timmons, Portsmouth; Charles W. Richardson, Barnstead, N. H.; H. P. Doyle, Hampton Falls, N. H.; William Grancy, Keene, N. H.; Henry H. Roth, Epping, N. H.; J. M. Priel, Pittsfield, N. H.; R. S. Harper, Biddeford, Me.; R. S. Gardner, Nashua, N. H.; P. H. Thompson, Newport, N. H.; H. W. Hunting, New Ipswich, N. H.; Guy Brinslow, Manchester, N. H.; Maurice Johnson, Manchester, N. H.; William Haykes, South Beach, Conn.; W. L. Pelton, Lancaster, N. H.

Others are Maxwell W. Smalley, Wilton, N. H., who has enlisted in the National Guard at Keene, N. H.; Chase who has enlisted in the Navy at Portsmouth; Harold Smith of Manchester has enlisted in the Mosquito Fleet at Portsmouth; R. B. Meader of Rochester, enlisted in the Navy at Boston as a wireless operator and C. W. Harris of Worcester, Mass., enlisted at Squamton in the aviation corps, and H. E. Howard of Pike, N. H., in the New Hampshire National Guard at Dover.

D. Brewer Eddy, Associate Secretary of the home department of the American Board of Commissioners for foreign missions, addressed the students here today on his experiences in the British training camps in England and taught them several of the Canadian war songs. Principal among these was "Keep the Home Fires Burning" which the audience picked up in a few minutes. Mr. Eddy described very vividly an attack from the first Zeppelin which was brought down in England, and his brother were awakened in the middle of the night by the sound of heavy firing and going to the window saw the enormous balloon high in the air over them. He said it was greater in bulk than an Atlantic liner, being more than 500 feet long. The shrapnel shells were bursting all around, but it was apparently undamaged for some time. Suddenly an explosion took place, and then the enormous vessel slowly crumpled and began to fall. It had been bombed by an adventurous British air man who made his attack from above. He was given the commanding German officer's iron cross and that officer's revolver as souvenirs of his exploit.

He also talked about the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing and explained that organization's method of operation in the large British camps.

RESERVISTS ON TRAINING SHIP ARE VACINATED

MANCHESTER BOYS ON TOPEKA ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO SOME REAL WAR ACTIVITY

The enlisted men of the Naval Reserve on the training ships Southern and Topeka have been vaccinated by naval surgeons and to many this was not a part of the game that they were looking for.

That the men are getting a lot of hard work in their training is indicated in a letter of one of the boys to a pal of his in Manchester. There are a number of the young men in the service from the New City and while he didn't do much kicking it is easy to see that he, with the others, will be glad when the time comes for them to get into real action. A portion of the letter as published in the Manchester Mirror of yesterday, follows:

"All our privileges have been revoked and we are strictly doing our bit. From now on we get but two liberty leaves a week. That is, we can go on shore only twice. As for going home, the time is weeks away.

"Today we were vaccinated. All naval reserves formed in line and marched past three doctors. One applied the alcohol, another jabbed the needle and a third put on the bandage. The whole thing was done in a jiffy. But the worst comes next week, when we are inoculated for typhoid. Three separate injections, each containing several thousand germs, are made. I can feel myself shivering. We are kept in the boat and, judging by indications, things are going to him. No vacation, no sight-seeing—nothing but hard training and plenty of it."

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath
of "TIZ."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-lacerated feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous excretions which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. And how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller, if you desire.

NO INFANTRY ACTION REPORTS ON BATTLE LINE

ONLY ARTILLERY DUELS TOOK PLACE YESTERDAY ACCORD-ING TO OFFICIAL REPORTS
FROM LONDON AND BERLIN

(By Associated Press)

Apparently the sanguinary struggle which has been taking place in the region of Arras for the past few days is stopped temporarily as no infantry actions are reported in the official announcements from the British or German war officials. The British war office announces that great artillery duels are in progress along the whole line. The Berlin office stated in the official report that on Thursday there was nothing of importance to announce.

The only infantry activity which took place during the day occurred southeast of Ypres where the Germans launched a raid. In the early hours of the morning against a British center, The London war office stated that the attacks were driven off.

On that part of the line held by the French there is a similar lack of infantry activity. The Paris office reporting quiet but for the action of the big guns which the report says is taking place along the entire line.

The British forces operating in Macedonia have consolidated at Lake Dorian after taking several new positions from the Bulgarians on Wednesday. On Thursday four counter attacks were driven back. The London war office announced.
